Assurance

With an independent quality award your business can display a recognised symbol that gives prospective guests confidence in the services you offer and a reassurance that your property has been independently checked.

Opportunity

Once you receive the award it will be an enhancement to your own marketing. You will also benefit in other ways with access to Discover NI social media opportunities and presence in a range of marketing and promotional initiatives.

Value

Research shows that this is crucial in helping tourists choose their accommodation so, can you afford to be without it?

We're here to help

If you're unsure whether the scheme is for you, contact us and we can arrange a free advisory visit. This service ensures that your involvement is tailored to your needs and business aims.

On application, be assured that all assessments are relaxed and supportive and our team is here to help you, giving you guidance on improvements and advice on future investment.

A great investment

Of course, getting the accreditation is an investment, but it is an investment that pays dividends – best practice advice, one-to-one guidance and a range of promotional material.

What they said...

“The rating scheme has proved a valuable marketing tool when promoting Blessingbourne and meeting our visitors’ expectations. It has been a great asset to marketing the estate and attracting new business.”
